Introduction

The following family tree of the descendants of John McQueen of Islay was first prepared by Robert J. McQueen in 2000. This update was created and posted Monday, 25 January 2010.

Both Adobe pdf and Microsoft Word doc versions of the file will be held on the website at <http://www.mngt.waikato.ac.nz/bmcqueen/WEBDOCS/mcqueen/index.htm> for the immediate future, but may have to move to a different location at some point down the line. A non-proprietary style has been adopted for this document that allows easy editing on a word processor, and does not require specialised genealogy software to view or modify. Each person is shown on one line, with tabs, vertical bars and indents used to show relationships. A one page, reduced view of the first three generations is given immediately following this introduction. The main file follows on pages 6 through 43.

These files will be updated online from time to time as changed information is received by email. Those who wish to download, customise and perhaps prune the Word file to their own immediate family requirements are most welcome to do so, but it is requested that a reference to the original source be included in any Web file or publication produced.

Additions and corrections would be very much welcomed by email to the following address:

This update contains the names of approximately 1,950 descendants of John McQueen of Kilmeny Parish, Islay, Scotland. John, at the age of about 60, and with his wife and six sons and daughters, undertook a grueling sea passage to emigrate from Islay to Canada in the summer of 1833. John died shortly after arrival, in Barrie, Ontario, then just a bush settlement of five buildings, but his wife and family continued on to Nottawasaga Township, Simcoe County, near to Stayner, Ontario where some of their descendants still live, while others are scattered to distant corners of the world, like New Zealand! While family trees of this kind can never be completely accurate or up-to-date with the latest births and marriages, the power of the Internet in finding others interested in the McQueen family, and exchanges of files in the year 2000 with researchers who had data on other branches of John's descendants has been truly rewarding. It is hoped that this document is close to being 98% complete and accurate, and no major branches have been left out.

Tracking John's birthplace in Scotland (perhaps in Islay), and his parents and siblings has been somewhat more difficult because of the loss of parish records in church fires. If he was born in Islay, one might speculate that John's father was Neil, and his grandfather was John, if you go on the custom of naming the firstborn son after the paternal grandfather. There was a John McQueen with a son Neil who was recorded as a tenant on the Areguirie farm, in Kilmeny parish on Islay, near Ballygrant, in the mid 1700s. More speculation on John's roots in Islay is given on a page just after the index at the end of this document. There were also other McQueen families on Islay during John's lifetime there, so there may be some links out there already discovered. Please let me know if you have any information from this era.

For those who might wish to link up face-to-face with others from the McQueen family, the McQueen Family picnic has been held every year for almost 75 years in and around Collingwood, Ontario usually in mid-July. Flora Robertson flora@ezlink.on.ca and John Montgomery oldmisery@sympatico.ca have co-ordinated this picnic for many years, and I'm sure would be pleased to hear from family members who might be in the area and able to attend that time of summer.

In the charts that follow, some sections where there are double linkages have been included twice to provide the context for those sections of the family. In other places, a reference has been made to another section to avoid duplication. Over 500 surnames are linked through marriage to the line from John McQueen, and these are provided in an index starting on page 44.

Sadie McQueen was the family record-keeper for many years until she passed away in 1972, and the original seed of this project was a set of tissue paper carbon copies which she prepared and kept updated of the Donald McQueen branch of the tree of John McQueen. Owen Noble contributed a file on the John McQueen branch which updated many lines. Flora Robertson also generously provided additional file data.

Copy of the words on a handwritten introduction letter carried by John McQueen on his emigration from Islay to Canada in 1833. Apparently several copies in existence - one is held by the author.

Kilmenny 6th June 1833

These certify that the Bearer John McQueen & his wife have with their family lived in this parish for a number of years during which time they conducted themselves in a sober & inoffensive manner, & leave the place with unexceptionable reputation.

John McQueen in Islay

John McQueen and his family left Islay in the summer of 1833 for Canada, carrying with them an introduction letter from the minister of the church at Kilmeny.

When was John born?

We know John's first child, Neil B. McQueen, was born in 1792, so that would make John's birthdate no later than 1772. However, Scots men often were not married until in their 30s, and almost never in their early 20s. Neil's first son, John B McQueen, was born in 1831, when Neil was 39. His youngest child, Donald B McQueen, was born in 1814, giving a range of 22 years from eldest to youngest. John's wife Mary McIntyre was definitely born in 1775, according to her headstone, and if the birth date of 1792 for her first child Neil B McQueen is accurate, she was only 17 when he was born. So John would probably be at least 3 years older than Mary, or 20, when their first son was born, but more likely more.

Therefore, our John McQueen could have been born as early as 1755, and as late as 1772, with a most likely range of 1760-1765, which might make him from 32 to 37 when his first son was born, and in his late sixties when he emigrated to Canada in 1833.

A John McQueen appears as a tenant on the Balnachtane Beg farm in 1686. A Neil McQueen appears on the rent roll of the parishes of Killarow and Kilmenie on the Knockcroch farm in 1733. And a Neil McQueen and his son John appear as tenants on the farm of Areguarie in a similar rent roll of 1741. In 1781, Peter and Archibald McQueen appear on the tenant list of the Islay estate papers as being on the farm Arquhary. So, if in 1741 Neil of Areguirie was in his 60s and his son John perhaps in his 20s, perhaps Peter and Archibald were also younger sons of Neil.

So, perhaps highly speculatively, with a mix of known and guessed dates, we could theorise that the Islay father, grandfather and great grandfather of our John McQueen might be as follows. Guesses are in italics, and known dates in normal font.

John McQueen, b 1645, tenant on Balnachtane Beg in 1686 at age 41.

Neil McQueen, b 1680, tenant on Knockcroch in 1733, at age 53, tenant on Areguarie with son John in 1741 at age 61

John McQueen, b 1720, tenant with his father on Areguirie in 1741 at age 21

Neil McQueen b 1750, first son, named for grandfather, (no records to show he ever existed)

Peter McQueen b 1752, tenant on Arquhary in 1781 at age 29

Archibald McQueen b 1758, tenant on Arquhary in 1781 at age 23

John McQueen b 1762, married to Mary McIntyre in 1790 at age 28

This would support our John born around 1762 when his father John was 42. Therefore, our John was likely not the first born son (who would have normally been named Neil). Our John may have had older surviving brothers (perhaps Peter and Archibald) who were born in the period 1752 to 1758 and as the eldest took over the Areguirie farm, and appeared as tenants in 1781. Our John named his firstborn son Neil B McQueen, which would confirm the tradition of naming the firstborn son to the grandfather's name.

A John McQueen is listed in the Daybook of Daniel Campbell as tenant at Ballygillin in Kilmeny from 1780-1799, which means that if our John was born in 1762, he would probably be too young to be taking on the responsibility of a tenant. This might have been his father John, but it would be strange father John would abandon the Areguirie farm to his eldest sons, and move to a new farm. There is also a John McQueen shown as tenant on the Courlach farm in 1802, 1804 and 1812, which would fit our John's age a bit better. Curloch is about 10 kilometers from Kilmeny and Ballygrant, but is closer to the main centre of Bowmore.

Only two of the offspring of John McQueen and Mary McIntyre have baptismal records available, and the location of the registering church may give some clue that they considered Kilmeny their home church, regardless of whether they were living nearby. James and John were their 4th and 5th children, with their oldest Neil around 20 by this time.

- James McQueen christened 28 Jul 1812 in Kilmeny
- John McQueen born in Cladach, christened 27 Sept 1813 in Kilmeny

Cladach is near Portnahaven, about 25 kilometers from Ballygrant, and almost as far away as you can get from Ballygrant on Islay. So it seems strange that John and Mary would have their 5th child born here unless they were living nearby, or unless Mary had some family connections in Cladach and went there specifically to have the baby.

Finally, the population of Islay around 1830 was about 15,000, with a number of McQueen families appearing on the tenant records. Kilmeny had around 2000 residents. If our John was not a firstborn son, he may not have been able to become a tenant, and perhaps was just a labourer or a craftsman. If this is the case, these linkages to other Johns and Neils who were tenants in the records may just be poor guesses.

Endnotes

¹ John McQueen emigrated to Canada 1833 from Kilmenny, Islay, Scotland, and died in 1833 in Barrie, Ontario. The following is copied from a historical book of Nottawasaga Twp. (Simcoe County), Ontario, called "The Outburst of the Iroquois" written in 1934: As most of those who settled what is now called the Fourth Line Corners, were Highland Scotch, they called the settlement "Ballygrant" after a place of the same name in Scotland. In 1834, settlers began to arrive in Nottawasaga Township. Some of those came by way of Barrie and Sunnidale and settled along the Fourth Line, while others went on to the Five Acre Lots at what is now Duntroon. Among the first to settle on the Fourth Line was the McQueen family. John McQueen and his family left the Island of Islay, Scotland in the summer of 1833 and came to Barrie, where they remained for two or three weeks. While there, Mr. McQueen died and was buried in the cemetery, which is not far from the courthouse. They next came to Sunnidale Twp. and as it was now late in the fall they spent the first winter in a shanty on one of the Five Acre Lots that had been laid out in the township. In the autumn of 1834, they moved to Nottawasaga Township and settled on Lot 24, Concession 5. The family were Neil, John, Donald, James, Isabella (Mrs. Wm. Blair) and Flora (Mrs. Alex. McKecknie).

¹⁶ Notes for DONALD SAMUEL MCCUTCHEON:

Obituary from "The Collingwood Bulletin", 5 September, 1929

NOTTAWASAGA SON PASSES AGED EIGHTY YEARS

Samuel McCutcheon Died on Saturday

Nottawasaga lost another of her older sons when on Saturday last, the death took place at his residence on the town line north of Singhampton, of Mr. Samuel McCutcheon, at the age of eighty years. Mr. McCutcheon had been in failing health for some months, but his illness took an acute turn only a few hours before his death. The deceased was the oldest son of William McCutcheon and his wife Ann Smith, who came from Ireland and settled on the farm north of Creemore, now owned and worked by a younger son, Mr. David McCutcheon. As a young man, he knew what pioneering in "the bush" meant and gave the best years of his physique to make the township what it is today. After helping to clear the homestead he moved to and cleared the farm on which he died, after a continuous residence of fifty-seven years. Mr. McCutcheon was a man respected for his upright dealings, his fine neighbourliness, his devotion to his family and his loyalty to his friends. He kept well-informed on topics of the day and was keenly interested in public affairs. In politics he was a staunch Conservative and in religion a Presbyterian. The funeral was held to West Church Cemetery on Monday afternoon when friends from far and near gathered to pay a last tribute of respect to one who had for so many years been a valued and faithful friend and neighbor. The late Mr. McCutcheon is survived by his wife, formerly Miss Currie, four children by a former marriage, William, Mrs. Angus McDonald, Mrs. Albert Edwards of Singhampton and Mrs. A. Wallace of Calgary, Alberta. Another daughter, Mrs. Fred Zeiggle, died eight years ago. There are also twenty-nine grandchildren, and four great-grandchildren. Mr. David McCutcheon of Creemore and Mr. Thomas McCutcheon of Toronto are the surviving brothers.

¹⁷ Collingwood Bulletin April 7th 1921 Death Of A Mother At Singhampton. The village of Singhampton and community was deeply grieved on March 20th when it became known that Mrs. Frederick Zeiggle [sic] had succumbed to an attack of pneumonia of which she had been ill for some time. The deceased was Mary Elizabeth McCutcheon, second daughter of Mr. Samuel McCutcheon and the late Isabella McQueen. She was forty-three years of age and was married twenty-three years ago to Mr. Zeiggle, who with fourteen children survives. The children are all at home except Mrs. M. P. Patterson of Seattle, Wash., who arrived home to be present at the funeral which took place on Saturday, March 26th, to the Union cemetery. The service was conducted by Rev. Kenneth McLean of Stayner assisted by Rev. A. Lang and Rev. J. W. Holmes of Singhampton. The pallbearers were six cousins of the deceased, Malcolm, Keith and James McQueen, Mac McLean, John McColeman and Neil McDerimid. Mrs Albert Edwards, Mrs. Angus McDonald of Singhampton and Mrs. Stewart of Calgary, are sisters, and Mr. William McCutcheon of the town line, north, is a brother, all of whom were present at the funeral. Mrs. Zeiggel was a very amiable and cheerful woman, always ready to see the bright side and to lend a helping hand to the neighbors. Her death is deeply mourned, not only by her family, but by the people in general.

¹⁹ Birth records on Islay indicate the birth of a John McQueen, parents John McQueen and Mary McIntyre, was registered on September 27, 1813. Registrations were often delayed from the actual birth date. The location listed on the record as the home address for the family at this time was Cladach.

²⁸ John McQueen, son of Charles McQueen and Jane Clark, emigrated from Islay. Their offspring were Mary, Annie, Flora, Katie, and John (who married Margaret). Charles had a brother Donald. However, this same reference ("While we still remember – a history of Egremont, Grey County: Editor Campbell Cook, 1984) lists the offspring of John and Margaret as Mary, Alex (Hamilton), Donald (Walkerville), Edmund, and Neil m Cassie Kennedy, whose offspring in turn were Charles m Marion, Owen Sound. So, this record of offspring does not match completely, and may be a different branch.
